

Carbondale Arts

Photo by Sarah Overbeck, spring of 2023

Seeking 2024 Gallery Sponsors

Carbondale Arts relies on sponsors to help support the many artists we exhibit in our beautiful award-winning gallery space inside The Launchpad, located in the heart of Carbondale's Creative District.

An exhibition sponsorship brings both emerging and established local, regional, and national artists to the Carbondale community and helps fulfill Carbondale Arts mission to "build community through art." Over 500 artists were featured in 2023. Each exhibition brings upwards of 300 visitors to gallery over the course of each four to five week show.

There are six total openings in 2024; see details below!

Cost per Opening (may include 1-2 exhibitions): $350

As a gallery sponsor, you will be featured in:

- Carbondale Arts website and monthly newsletter (over 4,800 contacts)
- Social media (over 4,100 Facebook followers & 4,500 Instagram followers)
- Gallery exhibition guide for the duration of show
- Exhibition postcard mailed to 350+ locals
- Virtual tour of the exhibition for online visitors

See examples of our past exhibitions at carbondale-arts.com/exhibitions. Reach out to brian@carbondalearts.com or call 970-963-1680.

Our 2024 Exhibitions

MARCH 1 - APRIL 5

Interdimensional Threads

In this first-of-its-kind show, Chris Erickson and Claire Wright will create a body of work using his designs and her upholstery skills to reupholster otherwise discarded individual pieces of furniture into a cohesive body of useful art.

APRIL 12 - MAY 16

Intimate Landscapes

Ashley Mosher is a local artist working with mediums of photography, encaustic, resin, 3D art, video projection & storytelling. The show will transmit, transform and transport the viewer through the intimate landscapes around and inside them into connection and awareness.

5Point Film Exhibition

5Point Film continues to expand its mission in telling stories that inspire through important documentary photographs by renowned filmmakers and photographers working to highlight climate change, habitat impact for wildlife, portraits of inspiring people, and more.

MAY 24 - JUNE 26

Xerocks and Potholes

The natural world remains a continual theme and source of inspiration for Lindsay Jones' work. Her drawings are a way of making tangible, the subtle intricacies of the natural world which capture her attention with intertwined themes of memory, time, nature, & space.

Analog Nature

This 2-person exhibition combines the works of glass artist Robert Burch and metal worker Rob Borchardt. This exhibition will showcase 30 years of craftsmanship largely fostered in the Roaring Fork Valley.

JULY 5 - AUGUST 8

Porcelain Quilts

Dara Hartman's ceramic sculptures reference the handmade quilts, toys, and clothes that she grew up with that were made by her grandmothers, serving as inspiration to her latest body of work.

Grounding

Louise Deroualle & Molly Frantz explore the earth, dirt, dust, mud, clay, soil, ground, land, surface, skin, peel. It is a time to turn toward the earth, seek grounding, find a sense of permanence and stability.

AUGUST 16 - SEPTEMBER 19

A Love Letter to Indian Creek

Clarissa Fortier's first trip to Indian Creek was in August of 2014, not long after her twenty second birthday. We'll soon see her ongoing love for Bears Ears National Monument, a special place to her.

Patterns of Consumption

Denver-based mixed media artist Kalliopi Monoyios uses materials that are all found and repurposed plastic, subverting their identities and their purpose to reawaken curiosity about this ubiquitous material.

SEPTEMBER 27 - NOVEMBER 1

Women (Im)print

This group printmaking and multimedia exhibition showcases hand-printed works by three women who are friends and collaborators: Katie Browne (curator), Bailey Haines, and Ali O'Neal.

Arts in Society Community Service Print Projects

This exhibition will be a celebration and showcase of the incredible work by young artists that are addressing staggering issues of societal equality, justice, and health through Community Service Print Projects at The Project Shop.